WHAT WAS THE MATTER WITH THEM?

There were five suicides in Chicago on one day this week, and during the first 18 days in April there were over one hundred in the United States. The Chicago Tribune, in making comments on the condition of things, says: "If the mania of self-destruction continues throughout the year as it has begun, the number of suicides will reach over 2,500 in the country at large, which will be nearly double the number of last year. The increase of the suicidal mania, indeed, through a series of years is appalling. In 1881 the number was 605, and every year since that time it has steadily increased until last year it reached 1,487. From the 1st of January to the present date the number is 698. There is a general impression that suicides are confined to comparatively unknown unfortunates. This is true to a certain extent, but during the last three months the suicides of prominent persons have been numerous. Three clergymen, three postmasters, six physicians, twelve well-to-do merchants, seven office-holders, three lawyers, three bankers, four railroad officials (one of them a president), two artists, three mayors, one journalist, one army officer, and two capitalists for various reasons have voluntarily shuffled off the mortal coil. Where is this thing to end?"

The students of mental science have been at work for years trying to find some explanation of this rapidly increasing mania for self-destruction. But as yet their labors have not been attended with much success. They are no wiser now than at first, except probably, that they are surprised to find so many well-to-do men, who apparently are not dissatisfied, committing suicide. It used to be thought that insane persons, or persons driven to over-powering madness, were the only ones who committed suicide; but the investigations of the scientists reveal the fact, that to all appearances, men and women in sound mental condition take their own lives, and that those who are free from desperate madness and as well free from the heartaches caused by disappointed love, calmly put bullets in their hearts or heads, or bury themselves in water.

To be sure there is no explaining this. Some men and women get tired of living and they take themselves out of the way. They prefer the grave to all the comforts of a home, they would rather have eternity than be bothered with time, and they have the courage to end their existence. This is the sum and substance of the whole matter.

But it may throw some light on this strange question to give the experience of a certain business man who was once interviewed on the subject. He said he had several times thought of suicide. He regarded himself mentally sound, and had no business or domestic troubles, but there were not enough attractions in this life to well him to it very strongly, and as he did not dread the future, he came to the conclusion that it would be a good thing to die instantly and without pain. He claimed that he could look at the question of death by suicide with just as much coolness of judgment and clearness of intellect as when he managed the business of the great firm which he represented, and of which he was the leading spirit.

Did the man tell the truth or was he mentally deranged?

BEAUTIFUL EASTER.

One of the most precious festivals of the church is Easter, the anniversary of the resurrection. There was a time, and that within the memory of persons now living, when it was predicted by skeptics that the observance of the day to commemorate the rising from the tomb of the crucified Savior would be abandoned by the more intelligent and progressive of the Christian churches. But the literature of Easter is marvelously increasing, and in every country where the gospel is preached the observance of the resurrection day is becoming more hearty and interesting.

Why is this? Simply because the spirit of the risen Lord is rapidly spreading throughout the world, and that in the minds of intelligent and reflecting human beings the trust of religion cannot be extinguished. They may differ about forms and disagree as to scriptural meanings but they all agree that Jesus rose from the dead, and that the Christianity that he founded—"its life, its clarity, its appeal for virtue, for chastity, for domestic happiness, for the care and protection of children, for the welfare of the human race"—all these things are the result of the resurrection which the past has invested it with.

Easter day stands to the civilized world for the highest good and the noblest ambition that the human race can possibly achieve.

Hope is the sentiment of the day. It marks the beginning of a new Christianity. The harsh doctrine of the old law which demanded an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth has passed away, and the resurrection of Christ founded a religion of love, of compassion, of forgiveness, and of peace. It is a good time to remember these things; not merely to call them to mind, but to fill the heart with the spirit of the day and all that there is good and holy coming from its observance. There is a good deal in Easter—a great deal for every man, woman, and child. It means much to them individually, and may be

DEATH OF JUDGE FRISBY.

The public will be surprised to learn of the death of the Hon. L. F. Frisby, who died at his home in Milwaukee on Friday evening. The intelligence comes through the Sentinel that on Monday of this week the judge felt indisposed, but on Tuesday was able to call on Senator Spooner at the Plankinton house. He was gradually growing weaker and died at nine o'clock on the evening of the 19th.

Judge Frisby was a man long known in the politics of this state. He was elected attorney general in 1881 and served five years. He was judge of Washington county, and twice ran for congress, the last time he came within 136 votes of beating Congressman Deuster. At the late municipal election in Milwaukee, he was a candidate for county judge against Judge Mann. Judge Frisby was a very popular man, a gentleman of culture, education and refinement, and an integrity that could not be shaken. His sudden death will be deeply regretted by his many thousands of friends in this state.

The legislature adjourned sine die at 4:15 on Friday. In the assembly there were 22 members present, and 6 in the senate. In each house the final message of the governor, containing numbers of bills which he had signed, was received. The assembly bills approved numbered fifty-two and those of the senate eight. Of the number submitted for his signature, four were pocketed and another had a narrow escape. Among the measures pocketed was the inebriate bill, providing for the setting aside of two wards in each state hospital for the insane, and that to defray such expense no adequate provision had been made by the legislature, no appropriation being contained in the bill. It was a mischievous bill, and was passed, by some means, without the proper amendments agreed to by the committee on charitable and penal institutions.

They are having a warm time of it in the prohibition campaign in Massachusetts, and the Boston Advertiser gives this timely advice to the contending parties: Let the words "crank" and "hypocrite" and the phrase "an ally of the rum power" be laid aside. They have done service so constantly during the last few weeks that they must be tired. Besides those words and that phrase do not express the truth. Senator Hoar, John D. Long, Judge Bishop and Rev. E. E. Hall, D. D., are neither cranks nor hypocrites. Judge E. R. Hoar, Hon. O. T. Russell, Mr. George O. Shattuck and Rev. Phillips Brooks, D. D., are not allies of the rum power.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with Croup, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to cure. The large bottles are 50 cents and $1.

I have had nasal catarrh for ten years so bad that there were great sores in my nose, and one place was eaten through. I got Ely's Cream Balm. Two bottles did the work. My nose and head are well. I feel like another man.—O. S. Miller, Sibley, Jackson Co., Mo.

For all forms of nasal catarrh where the passage of the air is impeded, and which is commonly called "stuffed up," especially when going to bed, Ely's Cream Balm gives immediate relief. Its benefit to me has been priceless.—A. G. Oase, M. D., Milwaukee, Wis.

MEDICINE FOR MORMONS.

Five Utah Missionaries Taken Out and Whipped by Alabama Citizens.
 St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—Information comes from Dale county, Alabama, that five Mormon missionaries were severely whipped and driven from the county last Monday night. These men had been holding meetings among the ignorant classes of the county, and had formed a colony to go to Utah. This had been carried on against the judgment of the better class of people, but no action to stop it was taken until the last issue of the Ozark Star advised the citizens to tar and feather the Mormons and drive them away.

This is enough. The night some forty of the so-called best citizens of the northern part of the county, without the slightest attempt at disguise, surrounded the house of Gay Irons, a recent convert, who was entertaining five missionaries. Without delay they were brought out, stripped to the waist and tied in a long row. Each of the regulators, with a long switch, struck each missionary a sound blow. By the time the last blow was given two of the men had fainted and the others were wet with blood. After the whipping the missionaries were given a thick coating of tar and feathers and they were warned to leave instantly or suffer death. Irons was told that if the Mormons were found in his house again, too, would be whipped.

The names of the Mormons are Asa F. Hixon, J. H. Hagadorn, M. F. Miller, John W. Pearce and Uncle Morrison. They are going to Henry county, but it is certain if they attempt to hold meetings there they will again be whipped. Their followers in Dale county talk of avenging the whipping, but if anything of that kind is attempted bloodshed may follow.

Trying to Enlarge New York's Area.
 New York, April 20.—The Crosby bill to create a commission to examine into the expediency of enlarging the area of the city of New York came up on final passage in the assembly. The bill provides that the members make a vigorous fight against the bill, but it passed by a vote of 67 to 23.

Postmaster Fearon Dying.
 New York, April 20.—Postmaster Henry C. Fearon, who has been ill for some time, became much worse during the night and to-day sank rapidly.

Terrible.
 Two-thirds of all deaths in New York City are from consumption or pneumonia. The same proportion holds for most other cities. Delays are dangerous. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption will always relieve, and may save your life. Prentice & Evenson, Druggists.

A TERRIBLY DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN NEW YORK.

Fairbank's Refinery, Two Big Elevators, and the Rosier Stores Among the Buildings Destroyed.

New York, April 20.—The biggest and fiercest fire New Yorkers have witnessed in this generation swept the east bank of the North river clear Friday from Fifty-ninth street to what would be Sixty-fifth street if that street ran to the river. It destroyed more than $1,500,000 worth of property in the New York Central railroad, and at least $300,000 worth of coal, flour, and the like, belonging to other persons, notably N. K. Fairbank, the great Chicago land merchant. The flames destroyed the two big elevators "A" and "B" of the Vanderbilt system, a big brick building stretching from Fifty-ninth street to Sixtieth street, and occupied jointly by the Fairbank land refinery and the Rosier stores, and wiped out the dock property of the New York Central railroad system from Fifty-ninth to past Sixty-fifth street. At least one man was killed in his headlong flight from the scene at the first outbreak of the flames, and a number were injured from the windows of the burning building, but in the terror of the conflagration it was impossible to obtain a complete report of the casualties. The following list includes the killed and injured so far as is known:

The Killed and Injured.
 HENRY BENNING, single, 684 Tenth avenue, a workman in Fairbank's refinery, killed by jumping from a third story window.
 JOHN JOHNSON, 517 West Forty-third street, likewise a workman in Fairbank's refinery, severely injured on the back by jumping from a window.
 CHARLES BROWN, 613 West Forty-third street, severely injured about the head from the same cause.

WILLIAM J. NOBLE, fireman of engine No. 2, prostrated by the heat while at work at the foot of Fifty-ninth street.
 EDWARD H. TOSIN, fireman, likewise prostrated by the heat.
 Rumors were rife all the evening that a number of workmen had been caught and burned in the Fairbank refinery, but it has been thus far impossible to ascertain the truth of them. At least 250,000 people turned out to watch the brilliant sight from the police lines on Twelfth avenue. All the West Side streets were blocked, and the elevated trains carried swarms up and down town to swell the crowds. The police reserves were called out to preserve order. Every fire engine above Fourteenth street was called out in the work of tremendous odds, first owing to the resistance of the flames and second because of the conformation of the ground in the locality, which is upon a slope from higher ground to the Hudson river.

A Race for Life.

The fire broke out in the southwest corner of the Fairbank refinery, where workmen were busy at the time setting up a new hard-rolling apparatus when the fire started. How it began and why it never will know. Soaked in grease as the old building was, it was aflame in an instant. From the ground floor the fire swept up to the roof, almost with the speed of thought. The men at work in every story dropped their tools and ran to save their lives. The staircases formed a glowing chimney, throwing out fire through every floor. The windows presented the only means of escape. Pursued closely by flames men flung themselves out by scores heading, and behind them burst out the flames. How many were there no one could tell. Those who came out were picked up and carried away by their friends, shuddering to think that some might have been left. Crying wives and mothers crowded the police lines shouting for their husbands and sons, or begging news of them. They were turned back in batches to look in the throngs for those they sought. They would, the policemen hopefully said, probably find them there.

The fire swept on. The Fairbank refinery, the old establishment of the W. J. Wilcox company, stands upon the water front between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets, occupying half of a building 300 by 200 feet, that filled out the block. The refinery was on the south half, the Rosier stores for general merchandise on the north side.

An Unequal Combat.

The firemen took their stand on a brick wall which divided the buildings and endeavored to stop the progress of the flames. The fire beat against it and heated it red hot. Over their backs and the roof fell in upon it, but it stood like a rock. Anything that would have been a hindrance to the firemen was a hindrance to the fire. They leaped above and around the sturdy barrier and reached across Sixtieth street and the dock slip. Over their heads the fire and the largest of the enormous grain elevators of the New York Central railroad. It was elevator "A," the construction of which cost $300,000. It stood pressing upon the roof of the building, and the flames that were blown toward it. Once that caught fire there would be no escape for elevator "B," 500 feet farther up the river, and no telling where the fire would stop, for beyond were freight sheds immovable.

Between the elevators on the water front and Twelfth avenue were first twenty-seven railroad tracks which no fire engine could cross, and a half-mile of stock-yard pens impassable. Chief Shay saw this and led his men to a very life struggle in order to save the elevators. He telephoned for fireboats and they came to his assistance. But the efforts of the valiant men were in vain. The tremendous heat from the fire across the street dried and warped the wood work of the big frame building, which it was shielded with corrugated iron and protected by slate, it shriveled like withered leaves, the slates fell from its sides in a red-hot rain, a thin, blue, flame smoke arose from its roof and sides, then a tiny wreath of something darker curled from one of the corner windows, a dull, red light showed behind it. A shout went up: "There she goes!" and then came a burst from a lower story window, at once the building was on fire. The covering of slate and iron rolled off in immense cracking crusts, the flames shot upwards for hundreds of feet, and burning pieces of material slid and flew in all directions with vicious force.

The Rosier Stores Burned.

The Rosier stores still stood dark and with closed iron shutters. But the water came by the firemen, started and belled when it struck them, betraying the burning heat within. The northwest corner of the wall swayed a moment, then it fell with a thundering crash. The entire building was soon in flames and presented an awe-inspiring sight. The heat was most intense, and it was found advisable to clear a number of the stock yard pens. The huge elevator was soon destroyed and the flames began their attack on the second elevator. This building was consumed and at 11 o'clock, when the fire was controlled, a half-mile of ruin sent out an immense cloud of smoke and about 150,000 bushels of grain, valued at nearly $100,000, and the buildings were worth about $1,500,000.

The Loss $3,535,000.

The following is the most reliable estimate of the loss obtainable:
 The Rosier stores, contents, $900,000;
 Wilcox company, stock, $400,000; elevator "A," $300,000; elevator "B," $750,000; dock "D" (contents), $200,000; dock "A," $35,000; the Wilcox building, $230,000. Total, $3,535,000.

The loss to the property of the New York Central company is covered by insurance in the London and Liverpool and Globe company. The Wilcox company's stock was insured for $100,000.

CYCLONE AT HINCKLEY, ILL.

A Brief but Mighty Blast Level'd Buildings and Trees.
 HINCKLEY, Ill., April 20.—A cyclone passed through this village about 10 o'clock Thursday night, striking the town in the northwest portion and continuing due east, unroofing and tearing down every building, sidewalk, and tree in its way. It took a path about 100 feet wide and lasted probably not over fifteen seconds. Strange to say not a person was killed or injured beyond a few scratches.

Horrible Accident at Ohio's Capitol.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 20.—As Mary Isabella Salzman, aged 5 years, accompanied by her mother and uncle, were looking over the city this morning from the dome of the State capitol the girl toppled backward through an open window.
 A stone coping twenty-two feet below the window caught her body, but her skull was crushed so as to make it certain that she can not live.

Her Uncle, R. M. Hull, Clerk of the Senate, so lost his presence of mind as to leap after the child. He barely caught hold of the coping and saved himself from being dashed to pieces on the ground, 200 feet below.

MEN MADE HAPPY.

President Harrison Names Another Batch of Officeholders.
 WASHINGTON, April 20.—The President has made the following appointments:
 Solon W. Stocking of Onondaga, N. Y., to be an examiner-in-chief in the patent office.
 Ralph W. Wheelock of Mitchell, D. T., to be receiver of public moneys at Mitchell, D. T.
 James R. Hayden of Olympia, W. T., to be receiver of public moneys at Seattle, W. T.

Laban J. Miles of West Branch, Iowa, to be agent for the Indians of the Osage agency in Indian Territory.

James G. Hatchett of Frankfort, Ky., to be a special agent to make allotments of lands in severity to Indians, according to an act of Congress approved Feb. 8, 1887.
 Morris D. Wickersham of Alabama, to be United States attorney for the Southern district of Alabama.

Plan for the Celebration.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Messrs. King and Witherbee of the New York centennial committee were at the White House and State Department to-day making arrangements for the transportation of the Presidential party on the occasion of the celebration.
 According to the present intentions the Presidential train will leave Washington early Monday morning, April 29, bearing the President and the members of his Cabinet and their families. Arriving at Elizabeth, N. J., at 7 o'clock, they will proceed to the City Hall, and will listen to the oration to be delivered by Mr. Chauncey Depew. After luncheon the President will hold a reception for two hours, and will then be driven to the Fifth Avenue hotel. He will also attend the ball Monday night.

Secretary Blaine has promised that he will respond to the toast, "The House of Representatives," at the banquet to be held Tuesday night.

Things an Importer May Not Do.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Assistant Secretary Tschoner has informed the President of a chemical company that an importer can not furnish goods from his stock to an institution as a loan or otherwise and afterward import an identical lot of goods free in exchange for those furnished; that an importer can not sell to an institution in transit and enter such goods duty free, and that an institution has no right to sell to its students any apparatus which has been imported duty free.

Capture of Thirty Boomers, Two Fatally Wounded and Several Others Badly Hurt.

PURCELL, I. T., April 20.—A battle occurred Friday between United States
officers and boomers and thirty boomers were taken prisoners. Seven of them were severely wounded and one deputy marshal was slightly hurt.

A raid was made by United States deputy marshals Friday afternoon on boomers
who had disregarded the law and taken up claims in Oklahoma. For some days men on horseback and in wagons have been fording the South Canadian north of Purcell and disappearing in the timber to the eastward.

Men who came in from hunting trips reported having seen large bodies of boomers moving in a northerly direction, and a hunter who arrived Thursday declared that he had seen a man plowing
in a secluded valley about twenty miles from Purcell.

The troops under Lieut. Carson scouted for the last time through this region about three weeks ago, and when they reported there was none to prevent the would-be settler entering this country except the United States deputy marshals, who at that time were busy day and night in curbing the bad characters who had infested the place. Within three days the force of deputies has been largely increased.

Friday at sunrise thirteen prairie scoun-ders, well manned, crossed the Santa Fe tracks below the city and forded the river.
The drivers urged their animals with whip
and clubs and the train was across and out of sight before many of the residents of Purcell were stirring. A prominent citizen saw them, however, and he acquainted others who have stalked out claims and hope to occupy them soon after noon Monday next. The story soon gained general credit and before noon a meeting was held in the Methodist church.

The feeling against the trespassers ran high and inside of thirty minutes a half-dozen fiery speeches had been made. It was finally decided that the chief deputy marshal be called upon to try to expel the raiders. He said he would do so and immediately sent one of his assistants to rally
his men.

In the afternoon the chief deputy, accompanied by thirteen assistants, rode down to the river and took the same ferry. There was a fresh trail leading to the northeast and the party followed this at a gallop. About four miles out one of the men noticed a thin cloud of smoke rising above the cottonwoods to the right. The halt was called and three of the party recommended. They discovered four wagons about 300 feet from the trail and five men seated around a campfire. The men were These were unceremoniously ordered to "hitch up." The chief deputy told them that if they delayed their outtings would be confined.

The enterprising boomers were thoroughly scared and in less than fifteen minutes were on the back trail in charge of one of the deputies, who was ordered to escort them across the river and then picket the fording place until his comrades returned.
The latter deployed as skirmishers and advanced slowly several miles. Suddenly a shot was heard on the left and a bullet struck one of the deputies. The party halted and a minute later a volley rang out in front and the pony ridden by one of the deputies sank to the ground with a bullet in the head.

The chief of the deputies is noted for his bravery and he called out for his men to "charge." Each had unsling his Winchester and all surged forward. They fired into the thicket and shouted "Halt!"
men. There was no response for several minutes and the men began to think they had dispersed the assailants.

They soon discovered their mistake. A man popped from behind a log and fired at them, and this was the signal for another fusillade from his friends. He retreated down a ravine just in time to escape the fire of the deputies, who continued to advance and pump their repeaters. Half way down the ravine the deputies discovered a rough barricade of logs and brush across the entrance, and simultaneously a voice exclaimed: "Now give it to them, boys."

A sheet of flame poured from the face of the barrier and another shower of bullets sped toward the officers. The boomers had been sufficiently warned, however,
and but one of their number was hit, and his wound was not serious.

The chief deputy ordered a retreat and gathered his men and shot the boomers of war. It was evident that the barricade was quite heavily manned, and that a direct assault would prove disastrous,
therefore it was decided to divide the deputies and attack the flanks of the enemy.
This movement brought the deputies directly above the barricade. At a given signal they began shooting from the top of the ravine into the midst of the boomers, who were utterly unable to defend themselves from such an attack.

Ten minutes of rapid firing ensued and then a cry for quarter went up from the barricade. "We surrender," shouted a man when the firing ceased. A hasty advance to the fort and the officers were in charge of thirty prisoners, seven of whom were severely wounded.

The Wounded.—
THOMAS MULLINS and DAVID WINSHIP, will probably die. Mullins has a bullet in his left lung and Winship one in his abdomen.
MULLINS was shot at Janesville, Tex., re-

JOHN T. WHITE of Fort Worth was struck in the shoulder.
SAMUEL DODD of North Carolina has a deep
gash in his forehead.

EDWARD F. LANSBURY of Texas suffers a shattered arm.
JOHN YOTNO of Louisiana is shot through the shoulder.

The prisoners, all of whom had rifles and revolvers and plenty of ammunition, were disarmed, the wounded cared for, and the march to Purcell was taken up. The wagons and personal property of the boomers were destroyed. The gang were all Southwesterners, mostly from Texas, and presented a forlorn appearance. Their captain, Edward McClintock, said he had been defined in a ravine for three days, and that the party was only the advance guard of a body of more than 400, who, through agents sent ahead, had selected their claims and proposed to hold them with Winchesters against all comers.

McClintock and the other prisoners were taken to the prison pen, five miles southwest of Purcell, and placed under a strong guard. As but one of the boomers was wounded and his injury is trifling the charge of murder cannot be brought against them. They may be tried for resisting arrest, but the belief is that they will be released after Oklahoma is open.

There is naturally much excitement here
and not a little sympathy for the wounded among the lately arrived boomers, who would be only too happy to get into Oklahoma themselves this week and hide detachment of the Fifth cavalry is expected here to-day and a scout will probably result in the discovery of many other outfits which still lurk in the region.

LATER.—It is reported that a large number of Texans, who have encamped off the Wichita river, are on their way to Purcell.
This causes the fear that they will attempt to rescue the prisoners and that a bloody conflict may follow.

ENTHUSIASTIC BOOMERS.
They Love a Wagon and Almost Their Lives in the River.

WELLINGTON, Kan., April 20.—Two Oklahoma colonists, ostensibly attempting this morning to cross State creek, which is greatly swollen, at Forker's Ford, two miles south of this city. The first horses to enter were drowned,
the wagon was swept away, and the occupants were rescued with great difficulty. Without attempting to save the submerged wagon or contents, the boomers easily drove the other outfit to a farmhouse near by, where they were met by farmer, and mounting the horses galloped away to the nearest railroad station to take

ed "over 200 miles over land, and said they were "determined to reach Oklahoma
in spite of h-l and high water."

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Two, and probably three, clerks who are thoroughly informed as to the detailed work of a local land office will leave the General Land office to-day for Guthrie and Kingfisher station stage in Oklahoma to assist land officers.

Troops Ordered to Preserve Peace.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—The following order, supposed to have resulted from Cabinet meeting, has been telegraphed to the commanding general of the division of the Missouri at Chicago:

"Adjutant-General's Office, Washington, D. C., April 19.—By direction of the Major-General the following is communicated: The President directs that Gen.
Merritt act in conjunction with the marshal of the United States courts having jurisdiction in the country opened to settlement under the President's recent proclamation to preserve the peace and quietude of the country, and to see that their duly authorized deputies order the troops under his command to aid them in executing warrants, making arrests, and quelling any riots or breaches of the peace that may occur. He will use his influence to promote peace and good order and will take every proper measure to avoid any conflict of arms between him and the settlers."

"He will also see that the laws relating to the introduction of ardent spirits into the Indian country are enforced. A careful enforcement of these provisions will do very much to promote good order."

J. C. KELTON,
"Assistant Adjutant-General."

Troops Start from Leavenworth.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., April 20.—All the troops at this garrison, including part of the hospital corps, with the exception of one company of infantry, have been put under orders to follow Gen. Merritt and his aide, Lieut. Dodge, into Oklahoma at an hour's notice. The troops detailed from this point consist of four companies of infantry, only a small garrison guard
and the company gendarmes being left.
The order to move was received at noon to-day. The troops filled four Santa Fe coaches and their equipment as many trains as possible. The reinforcements will reach the Territory and be ready for service before Oklahoma is opened to the settlers.

WARDEN GARVIN RESIGNS.
Ex-State Senator Berggren Appointed
to Take Charge of Joliet Prison.

JOLIET, Ill., April 20.—The board of prison commissioners have accepted the resignation of Warden Albert Garvin and appointed ex-State Senator August W.
Berggren of Knox county to the vacancy.
He will enter upon his duties May 1. It is a matter of doubt whether Mr. Garvin will resume his old position as deputy. He will take on the contrary. Mr. Garvin was well known at the prison, as he filled the office of sheriff of Knox county for three terms, from 1872 to 1880.

Cutting Down New York's Wires.
NEW YORK, April 20.—Contractor
Simon Hess and his gang of seventeen workmen started to clear the west side of Sixth avenue, from Thirty-second street up, this morning. After unstraining the wires they cut down a big pole in front of Trainer's hotel, at Thirty-third street, and then a seventy-foot pole at the corner of Sixth avenue and Thirty-second street. The gang started at Twenty-fifth street, also on the west side of Sixth avenue. They will cut down all the poles between to-night and then Sixth avenue will be almost cleared of poles.

DAKOTA ELOQUENCE.
How a Legislator Objected to an Appointment.

Ex-Gov. Pierce of Dakota tells of a member of the Legislature of that Territory who takes an interest in public affairs
and when he makes a speech takes right out in meeting. Not many months ago
Gov. Church, who has been a dead weight with the Legislature all winter, sent in the nomination of a one-legged man for a prominent office, and it became the duty of the Legislature to consider whether to confirm it or not. This statesman to whom Col. Pierce alludes took the floor and made a brief but effective speech.

"Gentlemen of the Legislature," said
he, "let us look at the situation carefully in the face and see if we can stand this sort of a nincompoop in the office to which he has been nominated. He trades mostly in an old gentleman, on his timber leg, but don't let us be fooled on that. Did he lose his meat and bone leg in the war, gentlemen? No, sir; he did not lose it in the war.
Did he lose it in the harvest field? No, sir;
he did not lose it in the harvest field. Then how did he lose it? You ask. And you have a right to ask all the questions you are able to ask about the man who has suffered his leg. He was riding gentlemen, over the prairies of this great and growing Territory, turning out of their humble cottages the widows and orphans of poor soldiers who were once our country's dead midst of winter, when the good and wise Creator, who shelters and feeds
the sparrows and never allows the children
of the righteous to be begging for bread,
froze his shins off."

EXECUTED AT VINCENNES.

SYLVESTER GRUBB PAYS THE LAW'S PENALTY.

Hanged for the Murder of His Sweetheart—A Southern Hanging—
The Criminal Record.

VINCENNES, Ind., April 20.—Sylvester
Grubb was hanged here about noon Friday.

For the last two or three days Grubb has been busy with his spiritual advisers.
Thursday evening, Mrs. Denny, who converted him, took her final leave of him.
The separation was very affecting. Grubb retired at 10 o'clock and soon fell asleep
and slumbered peacefully all night long.
Few last sleep on account of the approaching execution than the doomed man.
He did not awake during the night, though
at times he tossed restlessly upon his cot.
He awoke at 5 o'clock apparently refreshed.
He washed himself and looked bright,
though his expression was slightly downcast. He picked over a breakfast of bread, cake, pie, steak, fried eggs, rice and coffee.

He then was shaved. He talked and joked with the rest of the prisoners. His hands were pinioned behind him, and he was being shaved. He seemed anxious to see his family, and spoke of them repeatedly. At 9 o'clock the Rev. Mr. Keith, the Baptist minister, went to his cell and remained with him praying and singing
until the hour of execution. Grubb said he was prepared to die.

At 9 a. m. Grubb took his leave from his brother Charles. The Rev. Mr. Keith remained with the prisoner, praying and consoling him all morning. He ascended the scaffold at 11:02 coolly and without the slightest assistance from Sheriff
Buckley, who went on either side. Mr.
Keith walked before, reciting psalms.

When asked if he had anything to say,
Grubb replied: "I have a heap to say,
most I open my mouth on account of the newspapers. I am ready; better put on your rope."

At 11:05 o'clock the drop fell. His neck was broken. At 11:30 o'clock the physician pronounced him dead. The body was delivered to his brother.

Sylvester Grubb's crime was the murder of his sweetheart, Gertrude Downey, at Princeton, Ind., Sept. 13, 1888, on the Gibson county fair grounds and was seen by a large crowd of people, he shooting her five times, the injuries proving fatal a week later. Grubb then turned the pistol on himself, but it being empty he inflicted no damage. He surrendered immediately to an officer and was with difficulty saved
from being lynched on the spot.

Both Grubb and Miss Downey were of respectable families. They had been acquainted for about three years. Grubb used to be among Miss Downey's admirers and a frequent visitor at her house and her court to places of amusement. A few days before the murder Grubb made her an offer of marriage and was rejected. He did not see Miss Downey again until he met her at the fair. But a few days before on going to town he called at her house and requested an interview. She refused to receive him. When he met her in company with a cousin at the fair he again
requested her to grant him a few minutes'
talk, and asked her to take a walk with him, but she refused. Then he requested her to step aside for a little talk. She started to do so, but before they had proceeded many yards he pulled out the revolver and commenced firing.

Grubb was taken to Evansville for safe keeping. Shortly after his removal a mob of twenty-five men gathered at the prison jail, but after finding that he had been taken away they dispersed.

His trial took place at Vincennes, Ind.
After a week's trial the jury brought in a death verdict. Grubb took the verdict very calmly when sentence was read which condemned him to die.

THE PENALTY FOR MURDER.
Justice Meted Out in the Usual Style at Fort Smith, Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 20.—Malachi
Allen, a one-armed negro, who murdered
Sadach Pater, and James Mills, colored, were hanged at the gallows here at Fort Smith Friday.

Allen was a young Chickasaw half-breed,
who killed two men while at church in the Chickasaw nation, and at 10 o'clock a. m.
of 1887. Before the officers captured him he was nearly shot to pieces.

Mills killed Kohn Windam in the Cherokee nation territory.

—The Easter market of the Ladies Aid society of All Souls church will open at the church parlors on Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Supper at the usual hour. All are invited.

—Miss Mellicent Wheeler, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, who is attending school at Kemper Hall, Kenosha, is spending her Easter holidays with Miss Mand McKinney, Park Place, third ward.

—There are low mutterings of distant thunder on the horizon of corn exchange square again. The people around there object to loads of hay and other produce standing in front of their places all day and all night too.

—The people of the Presbyterian church held a very enjoyable social last evening at the residence of Mrs. Agnes Clark, 102 North bluff street. Supper was served by the ladies. The social was an enjoyable affair.

—On Monday evening the T. A. & B. Society will give a social dancing party at Hi-Bernian hall, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public. Smith & Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music, and a pleasant social time is assured to all.

—The many friends of Jesse N. Converse, formerly of this city, will be pleased to know that he is now the proprietor of a prosperous weekly newspaper called the Gibson Weekly Journal, published at Gibbon, Nebraska. Another Janesville boy who has made a hit.

—Miss Carrie Young, who has been behind the counters of the Magnet for some months, severed her connection with that establishment to-night, and Monday leaves for Reelsburg where she has accepted a situation. Miss Young is one of Janesville's most popular young ladies and will be missed by her many friends.

—The St. Patrick's T. A. and B. Society will give a dancing party at Hi-Bernian hall on Easter Monday evening, April 23d. Smith & Anderson's orchestra has been engaged to furnish music and the committee in charge of the arrangements will spare no pains in making the party one of enjoyment to all. The public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets 75 cents.

—Last evening as Charles Schwartz was loading his dray with egg cases up near the O. M. & St. P. freight depot, one of the cases fell off and struck the horse. No second hint to start was necessary. The horse made a "record" on his way down town which surprised even Charles. The thoroughly frightened animal was finally brought to a stop in front of Sexton's blacksmith shop, on Jackson street. A large number of much scattered egg cases was the most serious part of the damages.

—County Supt. H. C. Thom is holding examinations at the court house to-day for the benefit of those desiring to write for first and second grade certificates. The following are the teachers taking the examination: Robert Jackson, Emerald Grove; Nellie Crockett, Turtle; Anna Thompson, Milton; Elsie Belding, Beloit and Maggie Patterson, Eva Steele, Matilda Bailey and George W. Leighty, of Janesville. All these teachers have averaged more than sixty-five per cent in their examinations on third grade certificates.

—Mr. Thomas E. Addy, North Franklin street, is possessor of one of the finest natural history collections in the country. His collection embraces over one hundred cases of curiosities of every description, from almost every country on the globe. Mr. Addy exhibits, as his rarest specimen, a mermaid brought directly from the South Sea Island. A gentleman from Philadelphia recently desired to purchase the collection, but Mr. Addy decided he would not part with his pets.

—Last evening a large number of the friends of Miss Lou Carpenter made a surprise party on that young lady at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carpenter, of the first ward. Miss Carpenter is a member of the High School class of '89, and her classmates were there in full force, together with many of her friends who are not members of the class. The evening was spent with social games and cards, while full justice was done to the ample refreshments. The party was given in honor of Miss Carpenter's birthday. The company broke up at a late hour, all wishing the hostess many happy birthdays yet to come.

—Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balm for coughs and colds does indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are $1.00 and $1.50. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

MILTON STUDENTS APPEAR IN COURT CHARGED WITH INDULGING IN TOO SERIOUS A LARK.

Four jolly looking students from Milton were arraigned before Judge Patterson this morning, charged with obstructing the public sidewalks, breaking pickets, breaking down shrubbery and indulging in a world of malicious mischief.

The boys were from Milton, and the complaining witness was Ezra Goodrich. Harmony has not at all times prevailed between Mr. Goodrich and the students and the boys say that the present arrest is the outcome of these untidy feelings. The action is brought in behalf of the state, District Attorney B. M. Malone appearing for the state. B. F. Dunwiddie and Ed. F. Carpenter appeared for the boys. The hearing was had this morning and the boys bound over to appear on April 23d, for trial. Two of the boys were left in the custody of Officer T. L. Acheson and Hon. R. T. Pomeroy of Johnston, went security for the appearance of the other two.

OBITUARY.

NANNIE LEHAN.

Again the grim angel of death has snatched a victim from among us. This time it is Nannie Lehan, who died this morning at half-past eleven o'clock, at her boarding place on North Franklin street. Miss Lehan was nineteen years old but a few days ago. Her home was in Baraboo, but she came here about four months ago to work in the cotton mills, where she has since been employed. She fell a victim to that dread disease, pneumonia and so fell asleep in death. Miss Lehan's father is here from Baraboo and will return there to-night, taking with him all that is mortal of his beloved daughter.

WANTS TO BE A HERO.

CAPTAIN AYER WILL FACE PRESTIGIOUS DISEASES FOR FAME.

Captain Ayer, of the Beloit City Guards, W. N. G., has given up all hope of winning fame on the "tented field," but youthful ambition has not wholly deserted him. Failing to discover any prospect of war during the Harrison administration, he has discovered a new field of fame and glory, and is willing to become a hero in this new field even at the expense of his own life. He declares his willingness to lead the forlorn hope through the columns of the Beloit Free Press, of which he is city editor, in this manner:

"In the various epochs in the history of the human race there has always been occasions or emergencies when a hero became a necessity to the preservation or welfare of that race. Such a necessity is now at hand and such a hero is now demanded. With becoming modesty but with a resolution as high as heaven and as deep as space, the local editor of the Free Press steps forward to the front as the hero willing to confront and meet the necessity—the necessity for some one to take all the bank bills in circulation and put them in his vest pocket to the end that the human race shall be preserved upon the earth. That the necessity for this hero exists, read this fearful item from 'Current Literature':

"The last item of news from the laboratory is that the deadliest of bacteria live and multiply on the bank notes which we handle. Probably there is not a viller article that we ever touch than a bank note. Carried in the pockets of the most leoprous and loathsome, it passes through the pocket of the refined. We would not think of taking a pocket handkerchief that had taken any such round without washing and fumigating. We could not be induced to put on the shirt of a tramp, but the disease and contaminating goes, without a thought, into our inner pockets. What disease webug we do not think or care."

WOMEN WITH PALE COLORLESS FACES who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

MITCHELL & ROBYN'S COMPANY FOR ONE WEEK AT LAPPIN'S OPERA HOUSE.

"Our Boys" was the play presented last night by this meritorious combination and was better, if such a thing were possible, than the foregoing plays.

This company resembles good wine in one manner, for the longer they remain the better they become.

They have established themselves with our public as no other company have ever done in the same space of time, and if they see fit to visit us again, they are reassured of a hearty welcome. To-night they present an entirely new and original musical comedy entitled "A Lucky Strike."—Freeport (Ill.) Daily Journal, April 5.

The Mitchell & Robyn's combination will appear at Lappin's hall, commencing on Monday evening next.

GETTING EXPERIENCE.

Whenever any one goes out of the beaten track of travel, or tries to make his way independent of recognized authorities, he is apt to gain some refreshing experience.

Mr. Stourd undertook to make a tour out-of-the-way quarters of Cairo without the aid of donkey-boys, and from his account of the experience he must have enjoyed the novelty of the situation.

Many an eye was turned on in surprise, and when I had at last come into a remote quarter behind half a dozen streets, and found myself suddenly surrounded by a mob of half-grown boys, who were evidently unaccustomed to intruders, I was forced to make as speedy a retreat as possible, followed by a shower of stones.

As the gates were closed at evening, made separate cities of these several quarters. If you wish to pass from one quarter to another after dark, you must take your lantern and carefully look you out afterward. Gas-lamps are unknown, and that of Cairo, and white faces a novelty.

I was an hour or more working my way out of the unchristian labyrinth, climbing out, as it were, by the minutes, in each of which, I fancied, I saw a resemblance to the one that stands within earshot of our hotel. All foreigners either ride or drive in Cairo, but I got more experience in the old way than I could have gathered with the aid of fifty donkeys.

Yon sturdy who whose branches wide Boidly the storms and wind defy, Not long ago adorned with many a leaf, Lay dormant 'neath the summer sky.

Not unlike the thrifty oak in its germ, development and growth, is consumption. But even this may be of no avail, kindly, positively yields to the wonderful curative properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if taken early. Don't be blind to your own interests and think you're a hopeless case. This remarkable remedy has rescued thousands of druggists.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

The Organization of the New Common Council Perfected Last Evening.

Brief Statement of the Financial Condition of the City Given by Mayor St. John.

Alderman Sutton Norris Unanimously Elected President of the Council.

The Standing Committee—Election of Assessors—Routine Business.

The Janesville Gazette Elected the Official Paper of the City.

Mayor St. John convened the new common council last evening in special session for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the newly city government. At eight o'clock His Honor, Mayor St. John, called the council to order and directed the clerk to call the roll of members. The new board of aldermen answered to their names as follows:

First Ward—J. P. Baker, O. F. Rowe, Second Ward—Geo. Hanthorn, John Thoroughgood.

Third Ward—C. B. Conrad, O. S. Jackson.

Fourth Ward—Sutton Norris, Chas. Horn.

Fifth Ward—J. B. McLean.

Absent at roll call—Alderman Casey of the Fifth ward.

Mayor St. John remarked that it had been the usual custom for the mayor at the beginning of his official term to deliver an inaugural address. He had not anticipated calling a meeting of the council until some time next week, and this meeting being a little premature, he had not prepared such an address. He would, however, give the council a few statistics showing the financial condition of the city. In riding about the city he had noticed that the sidewalks were in very bad condition, as they generally are after the breaking up of winter. The roads are in fair condition—much better than the sidewalks. The mayor desired to call special attention to the condition of the sidewalks, that they might be repaired before some one met with a broken limb or something worse. He would not say anything about the water works until after the testimony taken by the investigating committee had been read. The fire department was in excellent condition, in fact, all the city departments, including the schools, were in good condition.

Regarding the financial condition of the city Mayor St. John read the following figures:

School Fund.....$ 4,717 79
General Fund.....Overdrawn
Water and Sewer Fund.....24 79
Hatch and Bridge Fund.....464 45
The Fund.....Overdrawn
Judgment Fund.....288 12
Library Fund.....632 45
Transferred certificates redeemed.....435 25
Municipal Court Fund.....254 35
First Ward Fund.....244 75
Second Ward Fund.....244 75
Third Ward Fund.....244 75
Fourth Ward Fund.....244 75
Fifth Ward Fund.....18 31

The bonded indebtedness is $42,000, of which $30,000 is on the railroad and $12,000 on the new second ward school house.

The mayor announced the following standing committee for the ensuing year:

Finance—Conrad, Baker, Jackson.
Judiciary—Baker, McLean, Norris.
Police—Hanthorn, Thoroughgood, Casey.

Fire and Water—McLean, Hanthorn, Baker, Horn, Conrad.
Printing—Casey, Conrad, Norris.
License—Norris, McLean, Conrad.
Schools—Rowe, Jackson, Baker, Hanthorn, Oscey.

Highways and Bridges—Thoroughgood, Howe, Casey, Jackson, Horn.
Parks—Norris, Conrad, Hanthorn, Oscey, Baker.

Railroad—Jackson, Thoroughgood, Rowe, Casey, Norris.

Ald Casey came in and took his seat. The clerk presented the bond of Horace McElroy as school commissioner—at-large, and John O. Spencer as first assistant engineer of the fire department; also the oath of Thomas M. Lynch as supervisor for the fifth ward. Referred to the judiciary committee.

City Clerk Bates also reported that he had received a report of the amount of liquor sold by druggists during the past year. Referred to the license committee.

The clerk also stated that the books of record and other papers belonging to the fire department, had been turned over to him by the secretary, that organization having been dissolved by act of legislature.

The clerk gave notice to the council that he had appointed Michael Murphy deputy city clerk, subject to the approval of the council. The nomination was approved.

Ald. Conrad moved that the council proceed to the election of president of the council, and placed Alderman Sutton Norris in nomination for that office. Ald. McLean—I move that the clerk be instructed to cast the ballot of this council for Ald. Norris as president.

The motion was unanimously adopted; the clerk so cast the ballot, and Ald. Sutton Norris was declared duly elected president of the council for the ensuing year.

Ald. McLean moved that the council proceed to the election of health officer. Adopted.

The mayor appointed Aids. Horn and Rowe as tellers.

The informal ballot resulted as follows:

James Mills.....4
D. H. Robinson.....3
W. H. Judd.....2
C. L. Clark.....1
Total.....10

First Ballot.

Mills.....5
Robinson.....3
Judd.....1
Clark.....1
Total.....10

Second Ballot.

Mills.....5
Robinson.....3
Judd.....1
Clark.....1
Total.....10

On motion of Ald. McLean further balloting was postponed until the next meeting.

Ald. Conrad—I move that the rules of the old council be adopted as the rules of this council. Adopted.

Ald. Baker—I move that a ballot be taken for an assessor for the east side of the river. Adopted.

The Mayor—Aldermen Rowe and Horn having performed the duty of collecting ballots for health officer so well, I will instruct them to continue the same as assessor.

The total vote cast for assessor for the east side of the river was ten, of which number P. S. Fenton received ten, and was declared duly elected.

Ald. Norris—I move that a ballot be taken for an assessor for the west side of the river. Adopted.

The whole number of votes cast was ten, of which E. H. Davies received ten, and was declared duly elected.

THIRD BALLOT.

Mills.....5
Robinson.....3
Judd.....1
Total.....10

FOURTH BALLOT.

Mills.....5
Robinson.....3
Judd.....1
Total.....10

FIFTH BALLOT.

Mills.....5
Robinson.....3
Judd.....1
Total.....10

On motion of Ald. McLean further balloting was postponed until the next meeting.

Ald. Conrad—I move that the rules of the old council be adopted as the rules of this council. Adopted.

Ald. Baker—I move that a ballot be taken for an assessor for the east side of the river. Adopted.

The Mayor—Aldermen Rowe and Horn having performed the duty of collecting ballots for health officer so well, I will instruct them to continue the same as assessor.

The total vote cast for assessor for the east side of the river was ten, of which number P. S. Fenton received ten, and was declared duly elected.

Ald. Norris—I move that a ballot be taken for an assessor for the west side of the river. Adopted.

The whole number of votes cast was ten, of which E. H. Davies received ten, and was declared duly elected.

Ald. Norris—I move that the Janesville Gazette be declared the official paper of the city for the ensuing year.

Ald. McLean—I move as an amendment that the Daily Recorder be declared the official paper.

The ayes and nays were called and Ald. McLean's amendment was lost by a strict party vote.

Ayes—Aids. Baker, Casey, Horn and McLean—4.

Noes—Aids. Conrad, Hanthorn, Jackson, Norris, Rowe, and Thoroughgood—6.

The original motion declaring the Janesville Daily Gazette the official paper, was then adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Aids. Conrad, Hanthorn, Jackson, Norris, Rowe and Thoroughgood—6.

Noes—Aids. Baker, Casey, Horn and McLean—4.

Ald. Baker, of the judiciary committee, reported back the bonds of Horace McElroy as school commissioner, and John O. Spencer as assistant engineer of the fire department, as in due form and sureties good. Also the oath of office of Thomas M. Lynch as supervisor for the fifth ward. Approved.

Ald. Norris moved that the clerk and city attorney prepare specifications for furnishing the city with lumber and sewer pipe for the ensuing year, and report the same to the council at the next meeting. Adopted.

Ald. McLean—I move that the regular meetings of the council be held on alternate Monday evenings, commencing on Monday evening, April 23d. Adopted.

Ald. Baker—I move that a special meeting of the council be held on Wednesday evening of next week, April 24th, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of listening to the reading of the testimony in the water works investigation. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. Baker, Patrick Riley was re-elected janitor of the city hall for the ensuing year.

Ald. Norris—I move that the city clerk be authorized to procure the necessary printing for his office and the council. Adopted.

Ald. Norris stated that in his opinion it would be a good thing to employ some competent person to care for the city parks and fountains, and on this motion the committee on parks was instructed to investigate the matter and report to the council.

Ald. McLean—I move that the salary of the city clerk and janitor be fixed the same as last year. Adopted.

Ald. McLean moved that the city treasurer be directed to place two hundred dollars at the disposal of the chief of the fire department, to be used as occasion requires in purchasing feed for fire department horses.

The matter not being thoroughly understood, action was deferred until the next meeting.

Last December a motion prevailed directing the city treasurer to place a similar amount at the disposal of the chief—the money to remain in the hands of treasurer and paid out only on the vouchers of the chief engineer as he might present when purchasing feed. This action permitted the chief to go into the market and purchase a load of hay or grain, as it was wanted, at the market price, and he could draw on the treasurer depositing his voucher, the money to pay. As a matter of course all such vouchers should go to the finance committee as Ald. Conrad suggested, and there is nothing contemplated in the motion of Ald. McLean to prevent. By adopting the course suggested by the chief, a great saving is made in favor of the city, and no chance for leakage.

The council adjourned.

A Great Surprise.
